

When God is My Companion...

I am drawn beyond, into silence

It is easy for me to be soul conscious, be free from attachment and to maintain self-respect
I become incorporeal, egoless and viceless
The consciousness of "I and mine" melts away
I become a conqueror of the senses, the mind and the world, Maya and the elements

My karma changes

My sins are absolved
I become free from compulsion and become strong
I become free from the suffering of karma
My sanskars become elevated and my fortune bright
My account of charity increases
The lock on my intellect opens, I become free from bondage, a conqueror of Maya, flexible, an all-rounder
I become an easy effort-maker and a destroyer of attachment
I easily become one who is ignorant of the knowledge of desire

Success comes to me

I am able to maintain my original stage in adverse situations
My stage is unshakeable and immovable
I remain free from worry and a carefree emperor
I have no tension but pay full attention
A situation as big as a mountain becomes like a mustard seed and cotton wool
No obstacle attacks me, but salutes me
I am able to be liberated in life
Success is guaranteed in every task
I become an embodiment of total success

At every step ...

I experience His company at every step
I experience the happiness of all relationships
I become an embodiment of authority, an image of all experiences, a combined form
I receive light and might and have a right

The intellect transforms

I develop a planning intellect and never confused
I am able to discern between wrong and right
I develop reality and royalty, touching power and catching power
My intellect is a refined, clean and swan intellect
I am an ignited light and an embodiment of power
I become trinetri, trilokinath and trikaldarshi

My life becomes simple and a sample and is filled with spiritual strength

I naturally have honesty and cleanliness
I am able to make everyone content
I become the most elevated by following the highest code of conduct
I become a guard of my virtues, lovely and lucky.

Relationships becomes rich

I am easily able to harmonise sanskars with others
I am able to become virtuous with a vision that only sees virtues
My heart becomes big and unlimited and I have regard for every soul
I become full of good wishes and pure feelings
It becomes easy to give and receive blessings
I become a master leader of one who has mercy for all
It becomes easy to uplift those who defame me
I am easily able to forgive every soul and recognise my own weaknesses

I become valuable for the world

I become a master remover of sorrow and bestower of happiness,
I become a donor, a bestower of blessings and a great donor
I become complete with 8 powers and all virtues, merciful and compassionate like the World Mother and World Father, a master of the self, a self-sovereign, a messenger of peace, loving and detached like a lotus flower, a spiritual rose, a stick for the blind, source of inspiration for others and a hero actor

I become an instrument

My life is protected and is useful for God
I am able to have the consciousness of being an instrument
I become an instrument to create an elevated world
My very breath, every second, every moment and every thoughts is used in a worthwhile way

I am the richest in the world

I become a true Meera of Murlidhar and praise-worthy, respect-worthy and worship-worthy
I become one who is constantly "wed", a mahavir, an authority of true knowledge, a master almighty authority
I become one who is richest in the world